

Fashion Week For Wildlife 2021

Can luxury fashion lead the way on sustainability?

XX Fashion Week 2021

1. Does XX Fashion Week have a statement and/or policy about the sustainable use of endangered and exotic species in the collections you profile?
 - If Yes, can you provide this statement and/or policy?
 - If No, given the landmark 2019 intergovernmental report into the global extinction crisis confirmed that direct exploitation for legal trade is the most important driver of decline and extinction risk for marine species and the second most important driver for terrestrial and freshwater species, would XX Fashion Week consider putting in place such a statement or policy by 2023?
2. Can you confirm if XX Fashion Week requires all the designers/brands you profile to provide you with their policy on how they manage their supply chain when it comes to using endangered and exotic species for their collections?
3. If XX Fashion Week does not yet require the designers/brands you profile to provide you with such a policy, would XX Fashion Week consider requesting such a policy from the designers/brand you profile by 2023?
4. How would XX Fashion Week describe the progress on the management and monitoring of the sustainable use of endangered and exotic species used in the global, luxury fashion industry and how do you back up the statement made?
